We are entering into a new time here at St. Paul's Lutheran Church. A time of newness, openness and witness. We are becoming a more diverse community of faith than at any time in the history of this congregation. We are God's chosen people (made so by Baptism), a royal priesthood of believers (Martin Luther's vision for us), a holy (which means useful to God's will) people, who are called to proclaim the mighty acts of God's love in the world.

God has sent us out into the world to make known His love for the world in both word and deed. We are the voice of God's love, the hands of God's love, the embodiment of God's love in this place, in this neighborhood, in this city, in this country and in this world. This is the mission, and we will do marvelous things together in the name of Jesus, through the power of God's Holy Spirit.

Our children, our children's children, our neighbors, the stranger, fellow Lutherans, fellow Christians, believers in one God, Jew or Muslim, religious people or non-religious people, young or old, whatever color or race or culture, or gender or gender preference--they will all know the love of Christ through us. They will see it, hear it and, with God's power, believe it.

The people of this congregation will make a difference in the lives of many, and this is how God's holy people will change the world, one relationship at a time. All this will happen because of our relationship with Jesus Christ. We are so blessed, in this time, in this place, all because of God's love poured out upon us in so many and various ways. I can't think of a better time to be the witnesses of Christ in the world, both because of the need and the people of this church who take on this important task.

We are a Gospel people. People of hope, faith, commitment and love, because that is what Christians are here at St. Paul's. And we get to share that Good News with everyone. I am excited about what the future means for all of us and how amazing that will be! We get to do this wonderful adventure in faith together!!

Welcome

Pastor Sarah
with her fiancé Randy Mayer

Pastor Sarah Flatt, the new Associate Pastor, will have her first opportunity to preach here on August 27th and 28th. We are very much looking forward to partnering with her in the mission of St. Paul's. St. Paul's will be celebrating her arrival and role as Associate Pastor at her installation sometime in late September or early October. Please take time to welcome her and show her this congregation's gift of hospitality.

FINANCIAL NEWS

Our year-end numbers are still being prepared and will be available soon. Following the close of the year, there is a review team who will be reviewing the books, as they do each year, to ensure that all standard accounting procedures are being followed. That report will be available at the January Congregational Meeting. As always, financial statements are available on the bulletin board outside of the church library or by contacting me in the church office.

The QR code on this page may be used by those with readers on their smart phones and it will take you to the secure giving page on our website. If you don't have a reader, you can visit www.splcomaha.org and look under "About Us" at the top of the page for online giving, or I would be glad to get you the paper forms. Thank you for your support of St. Paul's.

In Christian Peace, Lori

We are trying to finalize the new directory for St. Paul’s and could still use some pictures of our members. These don’t have to be formal pictures, but we would like a current picture of your family for this publication. We would also like to make sure your information is correct so if you have changed your address or phone number, please let the office know. If you have a picture that you could email or let us scan, please see Lori in the church office.

Let’s talk about stewardship, fundraising and the direction of the church. Join Megan Moslander for roundtable discussions in late July or early August. Several roundtables will be held. Contact her at 402.669.0061 or mmoslander@splcomaha.org.

We’re preparing for Fall! Wednesday programming will start on September 7 for all ages and Sunday programming will begin on September 11. This year we’re planning to make September 11 a day of service. All ages are invited to meet in the Family Life Center at 9:30 am to participate in service projects. One activity will be making sleeping mats out of plastic grocery bags. In order to have enough bags, we’re asking the congregation to donate any that you have around your house. Please bring them to church and drop them off in a bin in the Commons. Let Bogart or Emily know if you have questions.

If you would prefer to receive the Sower by email, please email Lori in the church office at lgraham@splcomaha.org.

Friday, August 6th
St. Paul's Block Party 2016
6 - 8:30 p.m.

St. Paul's will be welcoming folks from our congregation, the neighborhood and four congregations here in Omaha to an evening of music, food, fun and fellowship. This annual event was successful last year but we want it even more so with a variety of food ranging from Mexican, to ribs, to pulled pork BBQ sandwiches, to beverages of all types and, of course, pie and ice cream for dessert.

There will be games for the kids, music and comedy for everyone and all proceeds from the St. Paul's concessions will go to our Family ministries which include MOPS, Sunday School, Children and Youth programs. Set aside the date for a wonderful and fun-filled evening as we come together for a really good time and for a really good cause.

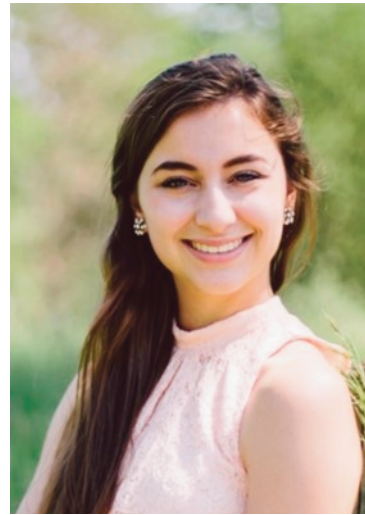

Brianna Juma Administrative Assistant

St. Paul's Lutheran Church of Millard's mission statement is: "Sharing Christ's Message to Transform All Generations." To really make this work, all generations need to be involved in the sharing of the message. St. Paul's is blessed with older folks, middle agers and young professionals, all working in the many ministries of the church. Be aware, we have some very enthusiastic teens doing their part, as well. Brianna Juma is one of those teens. She isn't just coming to church "waiting to be fed." Brianna is a vital piece of our intergenerational puzzle.

Born in Omaha in January 1999, she has grown up in the Millard schools, beginning at Black Elk Elementary, then moving to Beadle Middle school and, presently, attending Millard West High School, where she will be a senior this fall. The daughter of Kathy and Cory Juma, Brianna is a life-long member of St. Paul's. Her parents, Brianna and brother Justin are part of a large extended family who truly do represent all generations.

Brianna's life is filled with many and varied activities. She plays trumpet in the marching band, plays the cello in the orchestra, is active in the National Honor Society and Music Honor Society and volunteers at the Millard Library. She spends most Sunday afternoons rehearsing with the Omaha Area Youth Orchestra.

At St. Paul's, Brianna has worked with Vacation Bible School, helped with the Princess for a Day project and assisted with classes for 2 and 3 year olds in Sunday School. She also has made valuable contributions to special music on many occasions. Recently, Brianna spent a year as a member of the call committee whose work resulted in the calling of Pastor Sarah Flatt. Brianna is "super excited about having her come here."

In her spare time, Brianna enjoys running, biking, listening to all kinds of music, reading, drawing and crocheting. She plans to attend college but is not sure what career path she will take. She wants to do "what suits her passion." In the meantime, Brianna will be the assistant to Megan Moslander, St. Paul's Director of Stewardship and Development. Brianna and Megan were on the call committee together, and Megan thought Brianna would be a "good fit" to help with the work of that office.

When asked about her vision for St. Paul's, Brianna says the church is a "tight knit family," and she has seen and appreciates what it takes to keep a church going. She believes St. Paul's Lutheran Church of Millard will continue to grow and build relationships within the church and in outreach programs. With young people like Brianna, Christ's message is indeed lived and shared by all generations.

Karen Hansen is a volunteer who writes for the Sower newsletter and an active member of St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

We remember singing “The Church is not a building, the Church is not a steeple, the Church is not a resting place, the Church is the people.” The theme for the 2016 Nebraska Synod of the ELCA Assembly proclaimed just that: “We are Church” and emphasized the message from Ephesians 4:3-6 that “We are Church...Called in Hope...Diverse in Mission... and United in Christ.” The assembly convened in Kearney on June 2 and adjourned June 4. The banquet Thursday evening recognized rostered leaders celebrating milestone years of ordination or commission. St. Paul’s delegation was blessed to share in honoring our own Pastor Paul for his 30 years of ordination.

Called in Hope, Diverse in Mission and United in Christ was reflected in all the speakers’ messages and in all the programs presented. These were not just promotional reminders as a part of some marketing scheme. These were scripture-based calls for us as the Church to continue the work of Jesus by His directions as found in ancient writings, but meant to be lived in 2016!!

Bishop Brian Maas spoke on the text from Luke 7 where Jesus raised the widow’s son from the dead saying, “Young man, I say to you arise!” The Bishop applied this to the Church; saying we must follow Jesus’s command, and as the boy got out of his coffin, we as Church must get out of the box. We must get out of the box of comfort zones, fear of diversity and selfish hesitation. We must continue the work of Jesus wherever and whenever we can. Some of the ways the Church is striving to do this were mentioned including Table Grace in Omaha, the Sudanese outreach in Ralston and the Lutheran Disaster Response Team. In world connections, we heard about the Sudanese National Ministry of the ELCA called “Reconciled in Service” and actually led by two men from opposing tribes!! The Church is also active in working to end human trafficking and in making malaria a disease of the past. All of these ways of serving Christ’s family take no notice of race, religious connection, economic status, geographic origin or any other diversity which might try to put a tear in the fabric of the human tapestry. “All are one in Him!”

The keynote speaker was Peter Marty, former host of the national radio ministry “Grace Matters” and author of The Anatomy of Grace. He encouraged us to “get up and do something with your life.” He said that the opposite of faith is refusal to move. Pastor Marty also addressed being united in Christ as not just tolerating those who might be different from us, but truly loving and caring for them. He reminded us of the verses in Acts 15 “we believe it is by the Grace of the Lord Jesus that we are saved and so are they.” We need to remember Jesus was a refugee. He knew his origins, He knew where He was going and He took up the role of servant and “washed their feet.” Pastor Marty helped us recall we live together as a gift from God and that community is often a place where the person you want to be with the least wants to live.

Mikka McCracken is the Director of Planning and Engagement for World Hunger for the ELCA. She is a living message--adopted from a Korean poverty situation, she grew up in Minnesota and now heads a serving arm of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America. She exhibits a great calling of hope. She is from a diverse background, and all her gifts and ministry are united in the love of Christ.

Business was minimal with elections and a few resolutions which can be found on the Nebraska Synod web page. One critical message which was repeated often was the serious need for pastors. We were reminded to listen for the call in our own lives and also to “step out of the box” when we recognize the gifts for pastoring in others. Our drawing attention to their gifts may ignite a spark they had not recognized in their own talents. Be prayerfully aware!! The assembly was managed efficiently and opportunities were there to see “old” friends and meet new ones. The weekend was filled with the message of Christ’s love and of ways to “get out of the box” and “be Church.” We are thankful for the opportunity to have represented St. Paul’s at this 2016 assembly. We pray we may apply what we heard and witnessed to continue the work of Jesus here at St. Paul’s Lutheran Church of Millard.

CHILDREN'S MINISTRY

Our series on Vibrant Faith's principles for faith formation continues with the fourth principle which is "Faith is caught more than it is taught."

I'd like for you to take a minute and think of a time when you've noticed a child doing or saying something you normally do. Have you ever caught yourself doing something your parent did? I'm always amazed when a word or action comes from one of my kids and I know they learned it from me! I also realize how much I'm turning into my mother as time goes on. Just the other day, Scott was driving and an animal jumped out in front of the car. I instantly grabbed the door handle like my mom does. This used to drive me NUTS when I was learning to drive, and now, I'm doing the same thing to Scott! He didn't even have to say anything. He just looked at me, and I said, "Yeah, I'm turning into my mother!"

We often learn by watching those around us. We pick up patterns, sayings, good habits and maybe not so good habits. Others' actions become ingrained in who we are, and I think this is exactly what the fourth principle is about. As a kid, I watched my parents become highly involved in church. I saw them gather with friends to make popcorn balls for the treat bags after the Children's Christmas Worship. They helped with all the things my sisters and I were involved with, sang in the choir, helped with Easter breakfasts and went on mission trips. My mom was constantly at church for some ladies' meeting. You can bet that my parents were around church if something needed to be done. Not only did I see my parents volunteering at church, but I saw them growing in their own faith at home, too. My mom's Bible still sits on the kitchen table. Whenever I stay at their house, I know that the Bible sitting on the table means she has read it for the day. I know she says prayers at bedtime, falls asleep talking to God and wakes up still talking to Him. I caught faith because I saw my parents living theirs out.

As I grew older, I had the awesome privilege to go to Bible camp. I got to spend a week each summer watching "cool" college people live out their faith. Whether they were washing dishes, cleaning bathrooms, serving as a life guard or leading a Bible study, they were modeling what faith was. I caught faith because these counselors invested in me and showed me how to follow Christ.

I also caught faith from my pastors. When I was in middle school and high school, the pastors at my church were a husband and wife team. Gretchen and Dwight invited me to lead in the congregation. I wrote Easter sunrise services with my best friend. I made banners for the sanctuary. I was on a long-range planning team with ADULTS! I caught faith because they allowed me to lead, to see more of church than worship and youth group.

Who have you caught faith from? How did these people shape who you are and your understanding of God's great love for you? And who is watching you? Will they catch faith from you? What we say may be easily forgotten, but how we live our lives might influence another to know Christ. This is Vibrant Faith.

Charitable giving. When those words come to mind, what is the first thing you think of? Is it your favorite non-profit, the feeling you get when you write a check to a nonprofit, or the memory of volunteering?

Each of us view the word nonprofit in a very different way, but sometimes we tend to forget that our church is also a nonprofit. When thinking of your favorite nonprofit, our church doesn't always come to mind, but it should. The church should be right up there as one of our favorite nonprofits, if not our top nonprofit. Why do we chose to give to a nonprofit? Is it the feeling you get when you write the check, or is it what the nonprofit gives you back in return? Stop and think about it for a minute.

When we donate to the church, why do we do it? As the new Director of Stewardship and Development, I encourage each of us to take a look inside ourselves and think about why we give to the church, what would make us give more, and what do we get back from the church? Does our giving equal what the church is giving us back in return? I can easily say that the church gives me so much, I wish I could return with at least a million dollars! However, I know I give as much as I personally can, and then try to also give some of my time.

During the end of July and beginning of August, we will be hosting roundtables focused around stewardship and development. We also will have posters in the back of the church so you can list the reasons why you give, your visions for the church and what the church could do to increase you're giving. I encourage you to reach out to me via email at mmoslander@splcomaha.org or at 402-669-0061 to sign up for a roundtable, tell me your personal faith and giving story, the reasons why you give, or what we can do better! I am always happy to meet in a group setting or one on one. Together, we can continue to strengthen St. Paul's spiritually and financially!

The Holy Family Shrine sits high above the Interstate in Gretna, Nebraska. Many people passing below have wondered about "that corn crib on the hill." On June 21, twelve members of St. Paul's Grace Circle and of the Tuesday Morning Bible Study group made a trip to the Shrine.

Meeting for lunch at the Cracker Barrel, we car pooled to the Shrine and spent about an hour and a half learning about the mission of the site and exploring the grounds. The founders of the Holy Family Shrine wanted to "create a place for travelers to seek out the intervention of the Holy Spirit, to be at peace, to heal, to be comforted, to pray and to discover or rediscover the saving power of Jesus Christ enshrined in the Holy Family and in the Christian Faith."

There is a peace inside and out. A continuous stream of water trickles from the Visitors' Center to the altar in the sanctuary, reminding us of the waters of life and of the cleansing waters of baptism. Outside the native grasses, the gentle breezes (at least on that day) and the songs of birds remind us of the beauty of God's creation. The Shrine is supported by donations and no entrance fee is charged. It is well worth the trip to this "corn crib on the hill" to experience the peace and inspiration there, where you almost forget that the ribbon below is the noisy and speeding traffic of Interstate 80.

PASTOR PAUL'S MOVIE & BOOK REVIEWS

"Finding Dory" Rated PG, currently in the theaters. This is part two of the Disney/Pixar hit "Finding Nemo." I was impressed with the animation, the diversity of characters and, of course, the Octopus, voiced by Bill Murray. This search for parents/home is both powerful and funny, sad and silly, frustrating and successful, sounds like family. After you watch this movie and have dried your eyes, let's talk about it. ***

"Warcraft" Rated PG-13, currently in the theaters. This is a story of stereotypes, invasion, immigration and desperation, all covered in lots of violence and magic. The movie was okay, but lacked a sense of investment in any one character. The CGI orcs were amazing and the actors did an excellent job making everything seem real. Sometimes reality is more interesting than fantasy/fiction and, for me, this was the case for this film. After you watch, we certainly can talk about it. *1/2

"13 Hours" Rated R, and on DVD and Blue-ray. Talk about a powerful, if not very sad, historical situation in Libya and especially Benghazi. The story is told from the perspective of civilian security operatives for the embassy and hired by the CIA. What is sad is that this could have been prevented if folks had paid closer attention and asked the men and women who were on the ground there. This movie is very violent and not for the faint of heart. Let's talk after you watch this film. 1/2

The funeral was held Monday, June 27, 2016 with interment at Voss Mohr Cemetery.

COUNCIL HIGHLIGHTS

Highlights from St Paul's Council Meeting – July 11, 2016

John Keim called the meeting to order at 6:30 p.m. Tim Floro opened the meeting with a devotion on Keeping in Touch, which talked about continuing to communicate with God as HE is never too busy to listen.

New Council Members were present for their first meeting. Welcome to Crystal Henrichsen, Scott Custard, Susie Stieren and Teresa Campbell. Council would like to acknowledge the service and dedication to past council members Rob Sauer, Jan Wilson, Rod Larsen and Amy McGraw. Thank you all for your commitment to this great church of ours!

Council reviewed and agreed with Pastor Paul that per our constitution, C8.01(c), a voting member is a confirmed member. A confirmed member includes, among others, those who have been baptized and have received affirmation of faith. Pastor's stance is new members receive affirmation upon recognition of membership as well as all members present during baptisms reaffirm their affirmation of faith as part of the ceremony.

Important Dates to remember and plan to attend:

July 26 & 27 – The church office will be closed for cleaning and organizing to gear up for the Fall! No Wednesday night service or Amen Grill.

August 5 – Block Party! We have invited our friends from Trinity Lutheran, First Baptist and Iglesias Luterano and they have all shown interest in coming to the party! We will have great food including a Taco Truck, great fun, wonderful music and lots more to come! Stay tuned!

October 15 – Fall Mission Festival. We will be celebrating our annual pledge drive by hosting a Mission Fair along with a night of food, dance, drinks and, of course, HUSKER FOOTBALL!

Prayerfully Submitted,
Tim Floro
